The Bible, written in 1740.

Hail, sacred Volume of eternal truth! Thou staff of age! thou guide of wandering youth! Thou art the race which all that run shall win, Thou the sole shield against the darts of sin; Thou giv'st the weary rest, the poor man wealth, Strength to the weak, and to the Lazar health, lead me, my King, my Saviour, and my God, Through all those paths, thy sainted servants trod; Teach me thy two-fold nature to explore, Copy the human, the Divine adore; To mark through life the profit and the loss, And trace thee from the manger to the cross. Give me to know the medium of the wise, When to embrace the world, and when despise; To wait with patience, to abhor with fear, And walk before presumption and despair— Then shall thy blood wash out the stain of guilt, And not in vain, for even me, be spilt.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

TO R.

Tis sweet to think the charms of light That fall in silver rays on me, And memory's beams of soft delight, May fall as sweetly too on thee. And tho' the gloom of absence fall Around in mists of grief and pain, 'Tis sweet to think, our meet shall all Be dried when fond we meet again. Think not that pleasure's sickle glare Can charm away those gales of mine, Oh, no—if thou art absent there, Useless by me they all may shine. For thy dear image still is present In lasting thoughts of pleasing pain, And in the hope alone I'm blest. That we, in joy, may meet again. John Grove, August 24.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

TO EMMA.

Dear girl, though we doom'd to part, And yet, perhaps, forever; Believe me, this desponding heart, It can forget thee never.

And may that power that reigns above, Protect thee, and forever;

While my warm heart shall faithful prove,

And cease to love thee never.

TIME AND CHANCE HAPPEN TO ALL.

There's a chance for the soldier, though ever so brave;

On the field of his glory to sink in the grave;

There's another chance too, that he safe may come back;

With a cart load of laurels, of rupes—a—lock.

There's a chance for the lawyer to live by his wife,

And a chance for the gambler to live by his hits;

There's another chance too, that the gambler may lose;

And the neck of a lawyer find room in a noose;

There's a chance for the sailor a prize ship to take;

And a chance that a whirlwind may come in his wake;

There's a chance for the ocean a treasure to win,

And a chance too that Neptune may have it again;

While my warm heart shall faithful prove,

And cease to love thee never.

Weekly Compendium.

The New York Daily Advertiser, of Tuesday, says, "Mr. James Moon, of Philadelphia, died on board of the brig Smith, on Friday night last, opposite Fort Mifflin. The deceased was a native of land, but for some years past a citizen of Philadelphia. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father, and an honest man."

Fatal Accidents.—Conley Nolan was lost on board the sloop Sarah, Captain Smith, on Friday night last, opposite Fort Mifflin. The deceased was a native of land, but for some years past a citizen of Philadelphia. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father, and an honest man."

A man lately applied for admission to the New York penitentiary, as he alleged to preserve his morals, and gain a subsistence : but the magistrates informed him that he could not send him there unless for vagrancy, or the commission of a crime when, behold, the same man made his appearance the next day, accompanied by a comrade, having qualified himself to enter, by a petty theft, and accordingly committed.

The house of Mr. Solomon Lee, of Leric, (Vermont,) was entered by two villains last Sunday week, whilst the family were all at meeting, excepting two children ; the eldest they tied up, and gagged, then proceeded to pillage the house. In their search they found some money in money, which they took, together with several articles of valuable clothing, and made off.

The Montreal Courant says a woman was convicted there on the 12th instant, having sold spirituous liquors to Indians, and fined £5 currency, her license for this purpose, and herself ordered to be confined in gaol for twenty-four hours.

Sickness in Indiana.—A letter dated Salem, (Ind.) July 31, states that the neighbourhood of that place was very sickly, a number of deaths had occurred.

It is stated in the Hartford (Connecticut) that a large number of cases of either the measles or the spotted fever, have occurred in the city of Berlin, about 30 miles from Hartford, and which have terminated fatally.

A Match for the Sea Serpent.—In the Woodstock (Vt.) Herald, of the 10th inst., a story is to be found of two persons of that town, discovering, on the previous Friday, a large snake whose head and whose jaws were extended in the act of bearing to its den a young fawn, which had caught a few moments before. The snake in thickness, exceeded that of a common man's thigh, but its length not well be ascertained!

A shave upon John Bull.—We are told that some agents of American cotton, now in England, have been engaged in operation by purchasing a quantity of cotton in the British market, and selling it out again two days afterwards, at a small advance.

In the Connecticut Newgate, now 110 convicts, 38 of whom are negroes. It has been ascertained that more than half of them were intoxicated, and that they committed the crimes for which they are now receiving punishment.

More Gold.—It is said in the Citizen, (S. C.) Intelligencer, that several more pieces of gold have been found in a hill near that place, and a very flattering account is given of those employed in digging for this precious metal.

Five large fish of the Whale or Grampus species, were recently cast ashore on the east end of Sullivan's Island. Having got within the reef, the tide left them, and they were killed and taken possession of by the inhabitants. The largest was sixteen feet in length.

New York paper remarks that in reviewing the administration of criminal justice in that city, it is gratifying to observe that since the introduction of the treadmill, the number and atrocity of offences have visibly diminished.

The master of a vessel from Belize, Mr. He has been prosecuted by the City Marshal, says the Boston Evening Gazette, for secretly landing certain Irish passengers contrary to law. The penalty for landing without reporting passengers who have no settlement within that community is two hundred dollars for each passenger so landed.

An Arkansas paper estimates the damage sustained by the planters on the Mississippi in consequence of the late inundation, at not less than $3,000,000.

Corn Crop.—The tenant of a small farm near Pittsburgh, Va., was enabled last year with greatest exertion to crib out fifteen Barrels of Corn—this year, the same person, cultivating the same ground, employing the same force, will get in by the motion two hundred Barrels!

Hail Storm.—Last week a very severe hail storm was experienced in the neighbourhood of Petersburg, Va. The aged masses, which fell with the roar of distant thunder upon the earth, crushed every species of tender growth beneath them, and many of them are represented as having been of the size of hen's eggs. In some places a total destruction of young plants was the consequence.

Joseph Bonaparte, and several other distinguished French gentlemen, are now in New York, waiting the arrival of the Duke of Lucien Bonaparte with his family, who are hourly expected to arrive there before Antwerp.

The United States sloop Porpoise, of Rammage, and United States sloop Florida, arrived off the harbour of St. Augustine, on the 22d ult. They were to proceed immediately in prosecution of the same.

Columbus.—We understand that a original portrait of Columbus has been transmitted from Spain, by George G. Borg Esq., Consul at Malaga, and presented to him to the nation. It is a rare and valuable present. It came from Seville, and belonged to one of the contents of the 6th estate.

those who publicly approach the Master when in their hearts, under the influence of that spirit of prayer night !

who would be a real and not a nominal servant, is duly impressed with the necessity of striving to become a meek and humble disciple of Jesus—whilst he bears in mind that he is daily liable to fall, and that he must therefore be waiting for the renewal of his spiritual strength, and at all times be placing his dependence upon Divine aid—there is safety. But we have, with respect to some who have run well for a time, that either through the friendship of men or outward prosperity, or through unwatchfulness, they have gradually fallen away from that to which they once attained ; and, that others, from similar causes, are not advancing to that state of purity and simplicity in which they would become useful members of the Church of Christ. Dear Friends, permit us in Christian love, to remind you of the ever important injunction of our Lord—" Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation ; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." If you endeavour to prove by your actions the sincerity of your profession, if in your intercourse with others you show that you have an honest and upright heart, if your lives are ordered in the fear of the Lord ; you may, by your daily walk through life, command and adorn your own religious principles. But, if there be a want of consistency of conduct, it may lead others around you, lightly to esteem those very principles which their judgment has at one time approved ; nay, it may cause the way of Truth to be evil spoken of.

There are many ways by which our attachment to religion and virtue may be made manifest to others. One of these is the due observance of that day which is publicly set apart for the performance of divine worship. Our care for the due attendance of our religious meetings, both on first days and on other days of the week, has been repeatedly expressed, nor have we at this time been unmindful of this primary obligation. We earnestly entreat every one, when thus met, to consider the worship of the Almighty as a solemn act. Under this impression, his demeanour will bespeak a serious thoughtfulness ; and, let all remember, that at such times, an indolent state of mind is offensive in the sight of Him whom we are met to serve.—But the duties of the day, to which we have adverted, are not confined to the time allotted to assembling with our brethren. Our spiritual growth may be advanced by habits of quietness and retirement, and by suitable reading in the course of the day. On the other hand, great care is necessary that we do not by unprofitable visiting or conversation, by travelling on our outward avocations, or by otherwise engaging in them, dissipate those good impressions with which we may have been mercifully favored.

The account of the sufferings of our members in Great Britain and Ireland, in support of our well known testimony against tithes and all other ecclesiastical claims, including the cost and charges of clerical, and a few demands for military purposes, have been brought up in the usual course. The amount is upwards of thirteen thousand two hundred pounds.

We rejoice with gratitude that this country has continued to be favoured with the blessings of peace, whilst we lament that other nations, at no great distance from us have been involved in contention and bloodshed. We desire that we may also live under the influence of that Spirit which breathes peace on earth and good will towards men, that, whenever occasions occur, we may be prepared, by our conversation and conduct, in meekness and wisdom, to show forth our precious testimony to the peaceable nature of the Gospel dispensation.

The slaves in Ireland, and those of all the yearly meetings on the continent of America, have at this time been brought to our remembrance, with the feeling of much brotherly love, by the continuance of our usual exchange of epistles. This meeting has again felt deeply interested on behalf of the natives of Africa, who continue to be torn from their homes and consigned to cruel bondage, as well as for those who are held in slavery in the colonies of this country.—And we desire that Friends, every where, may not fail to remember all who are thus deprived of their liberty, with feelings of sorrow, and to pity them in their degraded condition ; and, also that they would embrace every favourable opportunity that may present itself for pleading the cause of these oppressed fellow men.

Now unto Him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and evermore.

Signed in and on behalf of the Meeting, by JOSIAH FOSTER, Clerk to the Meeting this Year.

SLAVE TRADE.

To the Commons of the United Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled.

Respectful Petition of the undersigned, representing the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers in Great Britain and Ireland Sworn,

That your petitioners have observed with great satisfaction the firmness and perseverance with which from year to year the Parliament of the United Kingdom has advocated the cause of the oppressed Africans.—They have rejoiced in the belief, that the iniquity and cruelty of the Slave Trade continue to be felt and acknowledged by their own countrymen, while they have observed with deep regret, that want of an effectual co-operation on the part of other of the powers of Europe.

Your petitioners, however, consider, that whilst no legal provision is made for the gradual abolition of slavery within the British dominions, the character of their country cannot be exonerated from the charge of injustice. At the last Yearly Meeting of the religious Society which they represent, there prevailed a deep feeling for those who are still held as slaves, accompanied by a firm conviction, that this practice is in direct contradiction to the merciful Spirit of the Gospel, and to the precepts of its Divine Founder. And your petitioners are impressed with a belief, that the time is arrived, when it is their duty thus publicly to express the feelings of their brothers in religious profession, in pleading the cause of their fellow subjects, who are deprived of the invaluable blessing of freedom. They therefore respectfully entreat your early and close attention to the situation of hundreds of thousands of human beings now held in bondage in the British colonies. Regarding them as their brothers and sisters by creation, and as fellow subjects of redemption by Christ, they earnestly believe that no longer delay may take place in considering the best means by which they may be gradually brought into the enjoyment of that liberty to which as men, they are justly entitled ; and raised from that degraded condition, in which every man is placed, who is reduced to a state of a slave. Your petitioners do not presume to suggest to Parliament the way in which this desirable object may be accomplished. They are aware that great wisdom and prudence will be requisite in so providing for the gradual extinction of slavery, as that the slaves may ultimately come into possession of their liberty, in the way which shall render it the most beneficial to themselves, and afford the greatest security to the Colonies Proprietors, and to the State.

Entertaining, however, an unshaken belief, that the religion which the author of our salvation has introduced, would, if universally embraced and acted upon, ensure the present and eternal happiness of the human race, your petitioners are anxious that all your deliberations and decisions may be founded on the firm and immovable basis of Christian principles ; they are deeply solicitous that by publicly recognizing the precepts of righteousness and truth as of paramount obligation, the British government may more and more commend the Christian Religion in the sight of the nations of the earth, and then they reverently believe that the blessing and protecting Providence of the Most High will be continued to their beloved country.

Signed by Members of a Meeting, for conducting the affairs of the said Society in the intervals of the Yearly Meeting.

London, the 7th of the 2d month, 1823.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

Lines written on the Brandywine.

Thy solemn roar, O Brandywine,
How sweet its music is to me ;
It brings the days of amid lang syne,
In brightest view before my e'e.—

I never stroll along thy bank,
But find remembrance brings to mind,
The many playful boyish pranks,
And sportive circles I have join'd —

But now those days are vanish'd quite,
And days of care are in their room,
And many a heart that then was light,
Ere now is moulderling in the tomb.—

Just as that wave its next death chase,
Until they mingle with the sea,
Fraile man is travelling on space
To join a vast eternity.—

Thus flows the stream of human life ;
Wave chases wave without repose,
So men with men at constant strife,
Pursue each other to the close.—

European Intelligence.

Late from Gibraltar.—Capt. Tiers, of the brig Ruth, 23 days from Gibraltar, reports that detachment of the French army was encamped within two miles of St. Roque, on the 23rd July. The commander, name not remembered, sent a flag into Algesiras, demanding the surrender of that place, but which was refused by the governor. The women and children had fled from St. Roque, in order to escape the dangers of the expected attack, and had encamped on the beach of the neutral ground. The Congress frigate sailed on the 23d for Cadiz with Mr. Nelson and family, Mr. Rodney was at Gibraltar with his family all in good health. Captain Tiers brings despatches to government from Mr. Rodney. A number of French and Dutch men of war were lying at Gibraltar when the Ruth sailed.

IRELAND.—Desperate attack on the Police, and several Persons KILLED.

On Wednesday morning (2d July,) at a very early hour, one of those daring violations of the law, so peculiar to the lower orders of this distracted country, attended with the loss of several lives, occurred in the parish of Castlehaven, within three miles of Skibbereen, in the West of Cork county. The facts, which we have from very competent authority, are as follow :

The Rector of the parish, the Rev. Mr. Morris, finding it impossible to obtain his tithes, there being 3 years due, and in the last year having experienced much opposition in obtaining them, he was determined to submit his case to the Bench of Magistrates assembled in Petty Session, from whom he received a warrant of distress, which was entrusted to his Proctor, who, with five other men, were appointed Special Constables, to execute it on the parties ; and for the more effectual preservation of the peace, a party of the police, consisting of Lieutenant Hawkshaw, four mounted and seven dismounted, stationed at Skibbereen, were ordered to assist. Accordingly they proceeded to the ground, where they seized some cattle, which the country people, who assembled in great numbers, resisted with showers of stones, when a dreadful scene ensued. The Police and Constables were obliged, in their own defence, having given up the idea of the cattle, to keep up a constant fire, which was as determinedly resisted by the country people with volleys of stones, which were kept up with such dexterity on their part, that the Police and Constables were obliged to retreat, leaving one of the Police named Bowen, and the Proctor, named Driscoll, killed, and several of the party wounded. The country people had two shot dead, and ten or twelve wounded ; five are reported to be dangerously so. Such was the rapidity of the retreat, that Lieutenant Hawkshaw lost his cap, which was knocked off by a stone. On the account reaching Skibbereen, Captain Baldwin, a Magistrate, with a party of the Rifle Brigade and such of the Police as were able, hastened to the place, but we have not heard of any person being taken. The ferocity of the country people was exhibited in a most disgraceful manner, having wedged a stone into the dead Police-man's mouth, which they forced in with another !!

Engagement between a party of Dragoons and the Ribbonmen.

A letter from a most respectable gentleman, in May, dated yesterday, informs us, that an account had just reached that town—that a party of dragoons, stationed in Magherafelt, who had been sent out for the purpose of repressing illicit distillation, had been attacked and fired on by a party of Ribbonmen, near Strabane, county Tyrone. They, of course, returned the fire, and our informant adds, that eleven of the Ribbonmen, two dragoons, and three horses, were killed on the spot, and several seriously wounded.—Irish Volunteer, July 1.

A Dublin paragraph mentions that six cart loads of old cancelled notes of the Bank of Ireland had been burnt in a kiln erected for that purpose.

Sir Robert Wilson arrived at Vigo, on the 17th June, from Oporto. He was very roughly treated by the population of Braga, and was obliged to return to Oporto, under the protection of the militia.

Extract of a letter, dated Gibraltar, July 23.

"Cadiz still holds out, and there is not much probability of its surrendering. It is reported that a battle has been gained by the Constitutionalists over the French in Catalonia. Gen. Lallemand is said to be in the neighbourhood of Valencia, with a good force. In this neighbourhood, Terrifica, Algesiras and St. Roque are in the possession of the Constitutionalists, so that the cause of the Spaniards is not desperate."

A letter dated 24th July, at Gibraltar, to a respectable merchant in this city, states, that " vast supplies of provisions" have reached Cadiz, and that there is no danger of a surrender from the want of food.

KING OF SPAIN.—Accounts from Madrid state that an ocular witness of the abduction of the King, from Seville, relates that he was dragged by force to his carriage, which was already encumbered by utensils of every kind, even those of the kitchen.

Behind the carriage several maidservants were tied. None of his valets de chambre were permitted to attend him ; his linen and clothes remained at Seville.

BLUCHER.—A letter from Berlin asserts positively, that the celebrated warrior Blucher died of a broken heart, produced by the King's withdrawing his confidence from him, and not fulfilling the promises he made of giving free institutions to Prussia.

Extract of a letter from Paris, July 16.
An express from Rome brings information that his holiness the Pope had broken his thigh by a fall, on the evening of the 6th, and that his life was in great danger.

Extract from a private letter from Havre, 20th July.

You will see that Mina is not yet dead. Morella has followed the example of Abisbal, and is said to have carried with him 3000 men. If he had been faithful, much might have been done in Galicia to annoy the French. The nature of the ground, and its proximity to England, from which supplies are constantly going, might have enabled the constitutional party, perhaps, to have turned the scale. As matters stand there, I fear they cannot hold out long. The French have too much money : still Quiroga may give them trouble in that quarter.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

Measures.

I observed in your paper of Saturday last an article, stating that the Schuykill Coal is superior to any hitherto discovered, and that the ashes are so purely white, as not to soil a cambric handkerchief : Now I beg leave to contradict this assertion : it is known by all those who burn this coal that the ashes produced by it are of a reddish colour and capable of soiling any kind of linen whatever ; and as to the other part I can say upon my own experience, that the Lackawaxen Coal is infinitely superior to the Schuykill, because it kindles much easier, and burns so long, but the Lehigh Coal, when a considerable body of it is together, makes a more intense heat than either. Having burned coal for five years past, and tried almost every kind, I think I may assert without danger of being contradicted, that the Lackawaxen Coal is better than any other kind in use, not only for private families, but for furnaces, blacksmiths' shops, &c. because it may be kindled with much less wood, a very small quantity of it will burn together, and it has all the other advantages of Lehigh and Schuykill over Sulphur Coal, &c. making no smoke nor disagreeable smell, &c. I am informed that the Lackawaxen company have contracted for a large quantity to be delivered in Philadelphia next year, which I hope may induce the public to try it and satisfy themselves of its very excellent qualities.

VERITAS.

FROM THE AMERICAN DAILY ADVERTISER.

Friend Poulson,

By inserting in your paper the following list of prices, taken from an account book, kept by a farmer in the vicinity of Philadelphia, in the years 1714—13, will be shown the vast change that has taken place in little more than a century, in the price of some of our staple commodities—Indian corn it appears was higher in proportion, than any other article, it being 2s. and wheat only 1s.

Wheat	2s. 6d.	Wool	0s. 8d.
Barley	0	Beef	0 1s.
Indian corn	0	Pork	0 1s.
Tobacco	6	Mutton	0 1s.

Tanned soal leather 9 pence.

Wages for labouring men was thirty shillings per month, and for women ten shillings. H

The Norfolk Beacon mentions that there have been ten cases of fever on board the U. S. Ship Decoy, which vessel was ready to sail from port, when sickness made its appearance among the crew. Five of the cases are of a malignant type—but, it is added, they are all convalescent and believed to be out of danger.

We regret to learn, (says the New York Gazette,) that on board the Canton, at Cadiz, a rencontre between the first and second mates, resulted in the death of the latter, who was shot dead by the former. The offender was brought home in irons.

Tread-Mill Mail-Coches.—In one of the Liverpool papers we observe the notice of a project for applying the principle of the stepping wheel to stage and mail-coaches.

The Americans at Paris celebrated the 4th of July, by a public festival, at which Mr. Sheldon, chargé des affaires of the U. States, and the Marquis La Fayette, were guests.

In the city of New York there are eighty-one houses for public worship, fifteen of which (being a greater number than those of any other denomination) are occupied by members of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The banking-house of Smith, Payne and Smith, of London, has paid into the hands of the Spanish Committee the sum of five thousand pounds, as the subscription of an anonymous individual.

Information has been received that the wretches who kidnapped, near Vincennes, (Indiana,) John Baker and family, people of colour, have been apprehended and lodged in jail at New Orleans. They were on the point of embarking for some of the West India Islands.

The last Norfolk papers inform us that all the persons sick of the fever, who contracted the disease on board of the Decoy are convalescent.

Mr. Forsyth, late Minister to Spain, and a Representative elect to the next Congress, arrived in the city of Washington a few days ago.

A Scotch paper of the 12th June, says, that the monument in memory of Burns, was in such a state of forwardness, that the gilded tripod, with which it is to be surmounted, was expected to be placed on the building, on the 24th of that month. The placing of this ornament was to be done in masonic form.

The New York board of Health, have issued an address to the public in which they say, "The Board have the satisfaction to assure their fellow-citizens that they have every reason to believe that not a single case of Yellow or Malignant fever exists in the city. And, moreover, an almost unprecedented share of good health for this season of the year prevails in every part of our metropolis."

A convoy of merchantmen, which left Guadalupe the 24th of May, consisting of about 60 sail, had arrived at Brest.—This must be gratifying to our insurance offices here, with whom we understand, a great part of the property, in the above vessels, was insured.

A duel was recently fought, in the neighbourhood of St. Louis, Missouri, between Dr. Mitchell of that place and Mr. Waddle. The latter was killed and the Doctor escaped unharmed.

A day or two afterwards, another meeting took place between William V. Rector, Esq. Auditor of the state of Missouri, and Mr. Crow,—which the latter was killed, and Mr. Rector had his arm broken.

Our readers will recollect that a short time previous, an eminent lawyer, Mr. Barton, received a mortal wound, in the neighbourhood of St. Louis, in a duel with General Rector of that place.

A joyful Family.—The Providence R. I. Journal of Thursday last states, that a man was then in jail at that place, charged with counterfeiting, whose whole family—from father to son, including mother and daughters, have been regularly bred and graduated at this and other branches of villainy and crime; two of whom are also confined in the Newport jail on a charge of murder."

The New England Farmer strongly recommends the cultivation of the Jerusalem artichoke, (Helianthus tuberosus) as a good substitute for potatoes in feeding swine, and for various other uses. "When cut and ground in the cider mill, they make good food for horses, with the addition of a little salt." They are said to grow in almost any soil, require no manure, and are proof against the severest frost.

Spontaneous Combustion.—A lot of waste wool, which had lain in a heap for a length of time near the picker, at a Merino factory, in Dudley, (Mass.) on being lately exposed to the air out of doors, was discovered in about ten minutes to be in a blaze.

The Chester Post Boy states, "Mr. Twells, in Radnor township, Delaware county, has growing, Indian Corn and Millet worthy of notice.—In one of his corn-fields the stalks are from eleven to thirteen feet six inches high, and from seven to nine inches in circumference. One of the fields of Millet, contains eight or ten acres; the straw has frequently been measured, and the length is from six to seven feet; heads from eight to ten inches long—one head I pulled myself, which had 113 pods, and 11,770 seeds.

The Senate of the free Hanseatic city of Bremen, have directed that an order be given to the receivers of indirect taxes, not to exact from the legacies that have fallen to the inhabitants of the United States since the 22d November, 1822, or that may fall to them hereafter, any other tax or duty, but such as, in similar cases, the citizens of Bremen would be subject to.

Domestic Improvement.—A Globe manufacturer has been established at Albany, (N. Y.) in which this article, hitherto imported at such great cost, is made equal and in many respects superior to imported.

In what the superiority consists, we have not yet understood.

On the 12th of July, a violent tornado struck part of the parish of St. John's, Port Hope, Canada, throwing down eleven barns and doing much mischief to the farmers.

The Whitehall Emporium states that every steam-boat from Canada brings on an average, 100 Irish passengers—emigrants.

The Earl of Dalhousie, Governor General of Canada, returned to Quebec on the 12th inst. from a visit to Nova Scotia.

A suicide under very affecting circumstances, was committed at East Guilford, (Conn.) on the 6th inst. by a man named Parsons Kelley. He had for some time been partially deranged. On the 6th of July he began to shave himself, and his wife watched him as usual; but being busy, she left him for a moment, returned immediately and found that he had stepped out at the door—she ran to him, and arrested him just as he was taking the razor from his throat. He had cut both pipes, but had not opened the jugular vein. His reason was immediately restored—he wrote on a slate, and continued to communicate his feelings in that way, expressing the deepest regret at what he had done. He was a worthy man, and much respected. He died of starvation—said he was so hungry that he could eat grass, but could swallow nothing, of course, and all attempts to insert food into his stomach failed.

Indian Outrages.—The St. Louis papers give the following account of another Indian outrage.

"Mr. John McKnight, a respectable citizen of this place was killed sometime in May last, on the head waters of a branch of the Arkansas, by the Camanches Indians. He had gone thither with a party of twenty, to trade with the Indians, and had erected a fort. He left the fort alone on some business at a distant village, and never returned. The Indians informed those who remained in the fort that he had been killed; and were seen afterwards wearing some articles of his apparel. The party, from one of which we have obtained this information, have just arrived after a fatiguing journey from their fort, near the Spanish boundary, which they left on the 13th of last month. They sustained no other injury to their persons, though they were robbed of almost all their effects."

An attempt has been made to murder a Mr. Culpepper, a shop-keeper, in Camden county, N. C. He was decoyed out of his store in the night, by a negro, and fired upon by some person in waiting for that purpose. It is believed that he would have been killed on the spot, had he not been protected by a post, into which 13 or 14 slugs entered. Mr. C. instantly fell, and upon examination, seven slugs were found to have taken effect in different parts of his body, some of which have been extracted, but it is the opinion of the attending Physician, that his wounds will prove mortal.

A ROGUE CAUGHT.

Reading, Aug. 23.—We are gratified to note that Dr. James Hamilton, alias John Randolph Bedford, alias G. Gallop, who married the daughter of Mr. Jonathan Tompkins, of Belleville, New Jersey, on the 28th of June last, and who after conveying her to Philadelphia and placing her amongst entire strangers, deserted her on the 10th of last month, was apprehended and imprisoned in the jail of this county yesterday morning. It appears from the advertisement describing this villain, and by which he was recognized, that he in July 1822, married a lady in Woodstock, Vermont, and that after having robbed his wife's family, deserted her. So minute were his person and clothing described in the advertisement, that the magistrate (William Schooner, Esq.) did not hesitate a moment to make out a missive.

The public are indebted to Messrs. O'Brien and Foster, for his early apprehension, who with a real worthiness of the cause of justice, promptly pursued the most energetic measures to accomplish this laudable purpose. It is said he had made an attempt to ingratiate himself into the favour of a family in the vicinity of this borough, intending to play a trick of villainy. He arrived in this place on the 12th of July, and applied to Messrs. O'Brien and Foster for work in the capacity of a shoemaker—his gentle appearance, being clothed in the very best, operated in his favour, and he was employed, but was soon found to be a very indifferent workman, which convinced those gentlemen that he could not be a shoemaker by profession, and which excited suspicion that finally eventuated in his apprehension.—Journal.

Melancholy Occurrence.—On Thursday afternoon last, as a wagon was returning from Derby, to this city, in which were Mrs. Ames, wife of Mr. Charles Ames, merchant, of New-York, their son, 13 months old, Miss Marshall, (daughter of Capt. Samuel B. Marshall, of this city,) and Mr. Ames' clerk, near the top of the long hill, west of the gate on Rimmon Falls turnpike, the horse became unmanageable, (probably from the circumstance of being detained by a previous accident,) ran down the hill, threw all the passengers out of the wagon, and one wheel passing over the head of the child, killed him instantly. Miss Marshall was severely bruised, and Mrs. Ames was considerably injured. The young man escaped un-hurt. Dilectly seemed to threaten them about the time they left Derby; for the wagon broke down soon after they started, and they were obliged to procure another. The wagon fell over by dropping off of a wheel; and Mrs. Ames, after recovering, remarked, with the fond feeling of a mother, that she had bruised her arm, but had saved her child by that means—little aware of the fate which awaited the child in one short hour.—New Haven Register.

Boston, Aug. 27.—Com. Bainbridge arrived in this city yesterday from Philadelphia, and we learn, will receive the command of the Navy Yard in Charlestown, from Capt. Hull this day. We also learn, that the citizens of Charleston have made arrangements for giving the Commodore a cordial welcome to his old station, with an invitation to partake of a collation in the Town Hall.

Zanesville, Aug. 12.—We are informed by a gentleman upon whose authority we can surely rely, that Governor Cass, who was appointed by the President, under an act passed at the last session of Congress, to negotiate with the Moravian Society and Indians, for a re-cession to the United States of their land lying in Tuscarawas county, has succeeded in making a purchase upon favourable terms. It is probable, therefore, that this valuable land will before long be brought into market. [Messenger.]

New Orleans, July 23.

The Secretary of the Board of Health reports forty seven deaths from the 15th to the 21st of July. Seven of these cases were of fever thus classified: "fever" 2; "bilious fever" 2; "typhus fever" 1; "malignant putrid fever" 1; "malignant fever" 1.

It is a fact, which, however tenacious we may be of the prosperity of the city, we will not conceal that New Orleans is, for this season of the year, sickly; and that many cases of fever (in its generic sense) do prevail.

A letter from Lima to the editor of the New-York American, represents it as probable that the war in Peru will be finished in the course of a few months. The Royalists have their quarters at Huancayo. Their force amounts to about 4000 infantry, and 1200 cavalry. The force of the republicans at Lima consists of 6000 men, exclusive of Colombians, of whom there were already 2500 present, and 3,600 more expected hourly. Besides these, it was thought a reinforcement of 1500 would arrive in about ten days, and a force of not less than 3000 was expected from Chile.

Extract of a Letter, dated Havana, Aug. 6.—The news of the insurrection in the Island of Barbadoes was immediately communicated to our excellent Governor, whose attention no doubt has been somewhat awakened towards the security of this Island. Our political destiny is, under existing circumstances, very critical, but we hope that peace and tranquility will be preserved among us, on account of the great interests that are at stake."

INVENTION OF PRINTING.

Brussels, July 13.—The secular feast of the invention of Printing, was celebrated on the 10th of this month at Brussels, with the greatest solemnity. All the houses and streets were decorated; the great church was opened at 8 o'clock, and more than 5000 persons took seats in the greatest order. The retinue arrived at half past 10, when the ceremony commenced by a symphony and chaunta. Professor Palme afterwards delivered a discourse, in which he showed that Brussels had been the cradle of printing, and developed all the advantages which had resulted from this important discovery. The poet Tollina, succeeded him, after which the retinue proceeded to the town house, where they left a half part two for the Hout, where they consecrated the monument erected to the memory of Laurens Coster. This monument bears two inscriptions, the objects of which are stated: one in Latin and the other in the national language. The arms of the city of Brussels, as well as those of the family of Coster were also placed in it. The poet Arntzenius recited a beautiful poem on the inaugural feast. The Governor of Northern Holland invited the principal persons engaged in the ceremonies, to a superb royal banquet; medals and narratives of this important event had already been sent them by the Regency. Different games and beautiful fire works succeeded the banquet; the bouquet of the latter being the representation of a temple dedicated to Coster, was particularly admired. New feasts were celebrated the next day, which terminated by a general illumination.

B. H.'s Weekly Messenger of the 7th July, says: "We have long made up our minds that Canada is not worth the expense it costs us; and that happy would it have been for this country, if it had been given to the United States in the peace of 1763. We should think any minister deserved well, both of the Canadians and of the English, who by mutual consent of the governors and the governed, should get a couple of millions from the Americans in purchase of our sovereignty of that territory."

A British frigate lately brought to England from India, a present to the King from the Nabob of Oude, of several articles valued at £200,000. Among them is a sword set in diamonds, a belt, a sword knot of diamonds and other costly jewels, with an emerald of great value suspended to it. This emerald is said to be the largest extant, and nearly the size of an egg. The ship has also brought out a Bird of Paradise alive, it being the first attempt of the kind which has been made with success, and as a present to the Princesses, a bull and cow of a small white breed, which the Hindoo worship.

Evening Post.
PHILADELPHIA.
Saturday, August 30, 1823.

Our regular carrier for the N. W. district, is prevented by sickness from serving the paper—we request those who may be neglected to give information at the office.

A considerable degree of sickness at present exists, more particularly in the vicinity and liberties of this city. The fever and ague or fall and remittent fever, with some cases of bilious, we believe, are the prevailing disorders. Perhaps it may, in great part, be traced to the careless and unnecessary exposure to the night air, which is considered at this season of the year, particularly injurious. We would take the liberty of cautioning our fellow-citizens against exposing themselves without doors after night-fall when it can conveniently be avoided. This precaution with an attention to diet, under a firm reliance on the goodness and care of an all-wise Providence, may be the means of preserving to us that blessing, whose value is never duly appreciated until taken from us.

Two or three arrivals have taken place at this port, New-York and Baltimore, since our last, furnishing accounts from Europe of a recent date.

The rumours and speculations of the Foreign journalists, respecting the probable success of the contending armies of France and Spain, with which these papers abound, are so vague and contradictory, that we can place little reliance on them ourselves, and believe they would not afford sufficient interest to our readers for us to republish them. The cause of the Constitutionalists is daily losing adherents, from the powerful inducements held out by the French for desertion, and we fear the prospect of re-establishing the rights of the people against the arbitrary measures of the unholy Ullamas of crowned heads is becoming less tenable.

On Thursday evening, between eight and nine o'clock, as the steam-boat Pennsylvania, was coming down the Delaware, she unfortunately ran down a masket boat opposite Vine street. There were two persons in the boat, and one of them, a young lad, was drowned.

It is stated in the Democratic Press of yesterday, that the Rev. Wm. Hogan has sent in his resignation as Pastor of St. Mary's Church—which had been accordingly accepted.

As we are all, as members of society, interested in the support and maintenance of those fundamental principles, which cement and preserve in unity the social compact, without which, good order and regularity (those qualities so prominently requisite to the well-being, and in fact existence of society) cannot be maintained, it necessarily follows, from every principle of justice and harmony, that it is not only the individual interest but the absolute duty of every member of the community to lend his support to the requirements of justice and exert his influence more especially when occasion presents, to discountenance every act which may have, however indirectly, a tendency to weaken or subvert the principles which constitute the basis and usefulness of the body politic.

These sentiments, in themselves sufficiently obvious, more especially presented themselves to our notice from a late incident, which, inconsiderable in itself, separately considered, tends strongly to illustrate the principles referred to in the preceding remarks.—An individual in this city, some time in the course of last week, having lost several articles, on apprehending the thief and recovering his property, considered it of no importance to permit the thief quietly to depart, on the plea of the trouble attending a prosecution, &c.; thus giving him additional inducements to commit further depredations on society.

Is not this a breach of the obligation due by individuals to the community? doubtless—and whether from private, interested motives, or a spirit of misplaced charity, we consider it equally culpable in the individual who can thus forget or neglect the duty he owes to himself and his fellow citizens.

SOCIETY.
From the efficacy which the administration of Snyder's Stomachic Bitter Cordial, had upon a child of the writer, induces him thus to notice it for the benefit of those afflicted with the summer complaint. The child is about 15 months old, and was taken ill with a great looseness of her bowels, sick stomach and loss of appetite, so that in a few days she became much reduced.—Many things were done in order to arrest the complaint, and the child sent to the country for a week, but all in vain. After her return to the city, a tea-spoon full of the above named Bitter Cordial, well sweetened with loaf sugar, was given in the morning, which appeared to prevent a return of the sickness: the dose was repeated every day, until the child was entirely cured—in the course of two days, her appetite returned, and in three or four from the first time of her taking the Bitter Cordial, her bowels were so much improved, that it became unnecessary to continue the medicine any longer.

The Bitter Cordial may be had at the store of Z. Holmes, No. 28, Lombard-street, with the necessary printed directions.
